CHAPTER 12.

AN ACT for taking the sense of the good people of this Commonwealth as to the necessity and expediency of calling a Convention to amend the Constitution, and to provide for ascertaining the number of citizens entitled to vote for Representative within the State.

WHEREAS, Experience has pointed out the necessity of amending the Constitution and the expediency of calling a convention for that purpose; therefore,

Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky:

§ 1. That at the next general election for Representatives to the General Assembly, it shall be the duty of the several sheriffs and other officers of election to open a poll for and make a return to the Secretary of State, for the time being, of the names of all citizens entitled to vote for Representatives who have voted at the said election for calling a convention for the purpose of re-adopting, amending or changing the Constitution.

§ 2. That any sheriff or other returning officer failing to perform the duty imposed by first section of this act shall be subject to a fine of six hundred dollars ($600), to be recovered by indictment of the grand jury in any court having jurisdiction thereof, and shall, upon conviction of such failure, be removed from office by the court in which such conviction is had.

§ 3. That for the purpose of ascertaining the number of citizens entitled to vote for Representatives within this State in the year 1887, there shall be furnished, as hereinafter provided, to the sheriffs and other officers of the election in August, 1887, a registration book, in which the names of all citizens entitled to vote for Representatives within this State at the said election. The officers of the election shall be ex officio officers of registration, and shall have said registration book open for the record of said names between the hours of 6 o'clock a. m. and 7 o'clock p. m. on the day of the August, 1887, election at all the voting places in this Commonwealth. And it shall be the duty of all citizens of this Commonwealth who are entitled to vote for Representatives, on the day of the next general election in August, 1887, to go before the sheriffs and other returning officers of said election in the voting precinct in which they are severally entitled to vote, and cause themselves to be registered on the poll-book as qualified voters of this Commonwealth, and names of any and all citizens living in the district known to said officers to be entitled to vote for Representatives, or made known to them by evidence on that day, shall be registered as not voting. And in the year 1887, no other officer shall be authorized to make any list or return of the qualified voters of this Commonwealth, nor shall any return thereof except the registration books and certificates provided for by this act be made, and all laws requiring list or returns of such qualified voters are hereby repealed, so far as the year 1887 is embraced therein. The total number of votes so registered shall be the true number of citizens entitled to vote for Representatives within this State, for the purpose of ascertaining whether a majority of all the citizens of this State entitled to vote for Representative vote for calling a convention for the purpose of re-adopting, amending or changing the Constitution.

§ 4. The said registration books shall be appropriately ruled and headed, so that they may, and it is hereby enacted that the same shall, be the poll-books for recording the votes for and against the calling of the constitutional convention, and for ascertaining the number of citizens entitled to vote for Representative within the State.
It shall be the duty of the said officers of election to propound to every voter the question: "Do you vote for calling a constitutional convention or not?" If such voter shall answer in the affirmative, his name shall be recorded as voting for said convention; if such voter shall answer in the negative, his name shall be recorded as voting against said convention, and if such voter makes no answer, his name shall be recorded or registered as not voting upon said question. And it shall be the duty of the officers holding the election at each voting place in the State to certify the total number of voters registered, and the number voting for calling the constitutional convention, and to make out a duplicate certificate showing said facts. The registration book shall be by them immediately sent, at the expense of the Commonwealth, by mail, to the Secretary of State at Frankfort, Kentucky, and the duplicate certificate attached to the poll-book for the election of State officers, and return therewith as now directed by law.

§ 5. The Secretary of State in office at the convening of the General Assembly next after the election in August, 1887, shall, immediately upon the organization of the same, transmit to each House a statement, prepared by him from the said registration and poll-books, showing how many votes were at the said election cast in favor of said convention, and the total number of voters registered, whether voting for or against or not at all. The report shall be made up by counties. He shall retain the registration books for the use of examination and inspection of the next General Assembly.

§ 6. It shall be the duty of the officers whose duty it is by the law to compare and certify the votes for State officers to make out from the certificates returned with the State election poll-books as above provided, and at the time they certify the votes for State officers, a certificate by voting places, showing the total number of votes registered and the number voting for calling a constitutional convention, and to send the certificate to the Secretary of State; and if the registration book provided for above shall, as to any voting place, be lost, destroyed or not returned, then the Secretary of State, in making the report to the General Assembly, shall use the information in the certificate as to any such district or precinct, and he shall, moreover, use the certificate to show that he has or has not the registration book for each voting place in each county named in said certificate.

§ 7. It shall be the duty of the Secretary of State, after the adjournment of this General Assembly, to make out the form of a registration book and certificates to be made and used as herein provided, and to furnish the same to the Public Printer forthwith, and it shall be the duty of the said Public Printer to make up and bind in the usual form one registration book, with a certificate thereon for each voting place in the State; also the duplicate certificate and the county certificate, and send the same to the several sheriffs, who shall see that they are delivered and used at the various voting places as herein required.

§ 8. That any officer failing to do or perform any of the acts or duties enjoined upon him by the third, fourth, fifth, sixth and seventh sections of this act, shall be subject to a fine of five hundred dollars ($500), to be recovered by indictment of any grand jury in any court having jurisdiction thereof, and shall, upon conviction, be removed from office by the court in which said conviction is had.

§ 9. That it shall be the duty of the Secretary of State to have this act advertised in one weekly newspaper in each county of this Commonwealth, wherein there is such paper published, for four weeks, and in one of the daily papers of the city of Louisville for thirty days immediately preceding the election, and in every county said Secretary shall cause to be posted at the court-house door a copy of this act, printed in hand-bill form, for at least four consecutive weeks before such election.

§ 10. It shall be the duty of the Public Printer to print ten thousand copies of this act upon a separate sheet of paper and deliver them to the Secretary of State, who shall forward the same to the county clerks of the various counties in this State in such numbers as to provide at least two copies thereof for each voting precinct; said clerks shall deliver the same to the sheriffs or other officers acting in the place thereof; and it shall be the duty of such sheriff or other officer to post one copy of said act at each voting place, and another copy at some other suitable public place in said precinct four weeks prior to the election.
Any officer failing to discharge the duties prescribed in this section of this act shall be fined for each and every failure twenty dollars, to be recovered in any court having jurisdiction thereof.

§ 11. This act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage.
Approved January 18, 1886.

A Promising Type Setter.

It has truly been said that "the printing office is the poor boy's college." John Bennet, who took the highest honors at the recent Yale College commencement, is a practical type-setter, who supported himself before and during college course by setting type. Modern history abounds with instances too numerous to mention, of persons both in the Old and New World, who have acquired knowledge in the printing office that fitted them for high positions to which they were called.
We know of at least three who "worked at the case" here in Paris, who entered the ministry—Bishop Kavanaugh, of the Methodist church, Leslie R. Galt, of the Christian, and John McFarland McCann, of the Episcopal.—Paris Kentuckian.

Uti there, Craddock, record another.
Rev. S. Xenophon Swimm was formerly a compositor on this paper, but he now goes into the highways and the byways, seeking whom he may save with his savage sermons. Craddock, "old fel," Paris can't claim all the great ones in the galaxy.

The Beginning of the End.

The beginning of disease is a slight debility or disorder of some of the vital organs, the stomach, the liver or the bowels usually. There are dyspeptic syndromes, the liver is troublesome, the skin grows tawny and unhealthy looking, there are pains in the right side or through the right shoulder blade. The climax is often an utter prostration of the physical energies, perhaps a fatal issue. But if the difficulty is met in time with Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which is always effective as a remedy, and it should be resorted to at an early stage, there will be no reason to apprehend those injurious subsequent effects upon the system often entailed by entirely cured diseases. Far better it is, also, to employ this safe remedial agent in fever and ague, and other malarial complaints, than quinine and other potent drugs, which, even when they do prove effectual for a time, ruin the stomach and impair the general health.

Grant Thomas and wife, nee Fanny Pieratt, were visiting relatives and friends here a few days last week, and returned home on Saturday. Grant is a candidate for Superintendent of County Schools for Lee county. He is every way qualified for the position. Having been a student at Hazel Green Academy, and a successful teacher in several institutions of learning, he is well posted on the modern methods of education, and if elected will elevate the standard of the common school system in Lee county. The position being a non-political one, all good citizens, Democrat and Republican, having the interest of their children at heart, should unite in giving him their support.

MAJOR DORAN DEAD.

End of a Noted Desperado's Career.
[Cincinnati Enquirer, July 20.]

FORT SMITH, ARK., July 19.—Major A. S. Doran, who was shot by Pink Fogg on Saturday night last, died this morning of his wounds, and will be buried here tomorrow in accordance with instructions from his brother, Jeff Doran, who resides at Mattoon, Ills. Doran was a Kentuckian by birth and was educated for the law. Prior to the war he lived in Louisville, and at the breaking out of the rebellion joined a Kentucky regiment and served in the Confederate army until the close. He participated in the battle of Shiloh and other engagements, and attained the rank of Major at the age of twenty-two.

In 1867 he killed young Whitfield at Memphis, and from that time on his career was downward. He resided for a long time at New Orleans and at Shreveport, La. About ten years ago he killed a man at Denison, Texas, and was confined in jail for two years before he succeeded in getting out. His brother is said to have spent $10,000 on him in this case. After his trouble was finally settled up he came to this place, and had been here about nine months when the fatal shooting took place.

[Chicago Times, July 19.]

"Major" Doran, as he is commonly called, who was fatally shot at Fort Smith, Ark., on Sunday, was at one time a well known Chicago sport, and those who remember him are generally of the opinion that he has got his just deserts at last. His reputation was that of a thoroughly unprincipled ruffian, a three-card-monte swindler, a blustering bully, a constant associate of disreputable women, and a man who never hesitated to take the most cowardly advantage of any one against whom he might happen to have a grudge. He had probably killed half a dozen men in his time, and in every instance the deed was marked by brutal cowardice. His first murder was at Memphis, Tenn., in 1867, his victim being a respectable citizen named Whitfield, a brother of Colonel Whitfield, who was at that time general solicitor of the Southern Express Company. The two men had some misunderstanding about a woman, and Doran, it is said took revenge by enticing Whitfield into a room and shooting him dead without a moment's warning. At the trial a woman with whom Doran was living went on the stand and swore that the killing was in self defense. On her testimony the murderer was acquitted. Doran left Tennessee soon after this episode and went to Malvern, Ark., where he and a companion named Charley Sherman became so notorious that they were driven out of the State by order of the Governor. Sherman was afterward killed at Durango by the marshal of the place, who was trying to arrest him.

Doran spent several years in Texas, where he was known as a desperado.
While at Denison he shot and killed a police officer, for which he was arrested, tried and convicted. An appeal was taken to a higher court, and a new trial granted, but during the delay the principal witnesses for the prosecution died or disappeared, and Doran again escaped punishment. The dastardly assault of Doran and eight other ruffians on the Flinn brothers at Hot Springs, Ark., three years ago, is still fresh in the memories of newspaper readers. The Doran gang was bitter against the Flinns, who had been instrumental in closing a "skin" gambling house in which the "Major" had an interest. Doran and his friends armed themselves with shot guns and concealed themselves in a house one day while the Flinn brothers and two or three others were enjoying a drive. As the carriage passed the house the ruffians opened fire on its occupants. One of the Flinn boys and another man were killed, and the rest were wounded. Frank Flinn, the brother who escaped, now lives in Chicago.

A rather amusing story is told of one of Doran's experiences in Chicago, which illustrates his lack of courage as well as his quarrelsome disposition. He took a chair in a Palmer House barber shop one day to get shaved, and immediately began abusing the barber, who he claimed, used a soiled towel on him. The barber protested that it was clean, whereupon Doran fired a volley of oaths at him, and got out of the chair swearing he would go somewhere else and get shaved. The manager intercepted him, however, learned his grievance and induced him to take another chair. When he was leaving the shop, after being shaved and perfumed to his satisfaction, he was met outside the door by the barber whose services he had refused. The tonsorial artist was mad clear through, and asked Doran, who was a stranger to him, what complaint he had made to the manager. Doran made some insulting reply, when the barber hit him square in the eye and followed it up with a shower of blows that sent him into the gutter. As soon as he could recover his equilibrium Doran dashed down the street with the barber after him, and finally escaped by running through a saloon and getting into the alley in the rear.

Doran is now under indictment for making a murderous assault with a knife upon a negro named Arthur Parker at Hot Springs.

Death of Hon. Thos. L. Jones.

Hon. Thomas L. Jones, of Newport, died at his home on Wednesday, July 20th last, at the age of sixty-eight years.
Mr. Jones figured prominently in politics, both State and National. He was elected to the Kentucky Legislature in 1853.
He has been a delegate to many State and National conventions, and was elected to the fortieth, forty-first and forty-fourth Congress as a Democrat, and had achieved a National reputation. He was originally opposed to secession; was also opposed to coercion, and warmly sym-pathized with the South during the civil war, and was the first member of Congress to favor general amnesty. He was a man of scholarly attainments, chival-rous and honorable in his principles; was a finished, elegant and popular speaker; was pleasant and attractive in manner; was a man of fine address and diplomatic skill, and was one of the most polished and successful members of the Democratic party in Kentucky.

Hazel Green Academy.

The above well known institution will begin its eighth term on Monday September 5th, 1887, with a full corps of competent teachers. This is the best known and has been the most successful educational institution east of Lexington, and since its existence a few years ago, has done more to elevate and educate the people of the mountains than any similar institution. In all the surrounding counties may be found students of this school holding honorable and lucrative positions as teachers. With the present term will begin a new era, and people of the blue grass country who want their children educated in a moral and healthful atmosphere will be among its patrons.
Board, tuition, &c., are very low when compared with schools of similar advantages, and all who have the means to educate their children can do so at little expense.

A Monstrosity.

On last Thursday, a few miles above Hazel Green, on Red River, a cow belonging to Leander Brooks gave birth to a calf which is the most wonderful in some respects we have ever heard of.
The calf was of good size and well developed with the exception of its head and face, which was forked to the shape of a V, with a nostril in each fork. The tongue and mouth were plainly visible through the aperture made by the forks, and just above the eyes was a round hole as large as a silver half dollar, where the brains should have been, which was perfectly empty. The calf lived only a few minutes after birth.
